In 2018, Judge W. McGregor Dixon announced his retirement, having served for over ten years on the bench. It was under Judge Dixon's direction, that the Court undertook having the Probation department become evidenced-based; having the Court become a IV(e) Court, which allows the Court to be federally reimbursed for the placement of children in residential facilities and for increasing the use of the State RECLAIM grant dollars to fund programming for youth. The Court thanks Judge Dixon for his dedication and service to the youth and citizens of Miami County.

Oral History of Miami County Juvenile Court

By attorney, local historian and author John Fulker as told to intern Trent Huelskamp

Miami County Juvenile Court started sometime in the mid to late 1930s. Reviewing what remains in the civil docket archives from the 1930s, juvenile court started sometime between 1933 and 1939. While Probate Court Judges date back to 1852, it is not until Judge Guy O'Donnell was listed as a Probate/Juvenile Judge that Miami County had its first juvenile court judge. Probate court and juvenile court shared the same space in the old courthouse until the Safety Building was constructed in 1973. Since that time, probate court and juvenile court have had separate clerk offices and public areas, although they still share courtrooms with each other. John Fulker, attorney and local historian, indicated that he knew all of the Judges that have served the citizens as Miami County Juvenile Judge. He did title work in the recorder's office with Judge Guy O'Donnell after Judge O'Donnell retired from the bench and returned to the legal practice. Mr. Fulker remembers Judge Carl Felger as a very well-liked judge and a family friend. Judge Samuel Faust was brother of John's senior law partner, Leo Faust and his wife Edith was the judge's clerk and she was a tremendous help to him. Judge James O'Donnell was the grandson of Judge Guy O'Donnell and after leaving the bench continues to practice in the probate area. Finally, Judge Richard Goater, Judge Lynnita Wagner and Judge "Greg" Dixon are remembered as being very accommodating and welcoming judges, consistent with the earlier judges.

Mr. Faulker believes Miami County Juvenile Court throughout the years has been known throughout the State of Ohio as a model example of quality judicial service. Having appeared before Judge Altenburger many times as a magistrate, Mr. Fulker looks forward to practicing law before Judge Altenburger who will continue the fine tradition of excellence as established by his predecessors.

2018 in Review and Goals for 2019

2018 was a year of transition. The Court not only saw the retirement of the Judge, it also lost a long time probation officer. It also transitioned a new judge and a new chief probation officer.

Some of the years' accomplishments include:

Winterfest – The Court partnered with a local non-profit, Fusion, to provide an event for youth and their families to get together, playing games, creating crafts and spending time in a different light. Parents had the opportunity to pick out gifts for their youth in the holiday shop.

In an effort to continue to meet the needs of our youth and families, the Court added or modified some programs in 2018.

Anger Management Classes - Megan Landis, along with our Psychology Practicum Student Erin Currow, facilitated a group of youth who were Court ordered into this program. This was a group that was previously conducted by an outside agency. This new venture allowed our department to work hands-on with youth to help them manage their emotions in a more effective manner.

Parent Project - Parent Project is nationally used and recognized program that helps parents. Two probation staff went to week long training, which enabled them to facilitate the program. The ten week long program assists families in working with youth where traditional parenting styles haven't been successful.

Probation department began to implement Evidence Based Probation- Miami County Juvenile Court and Probation staff have been at the forefront and ahead of the curve with researched based, practical ways to work with our youth and families. After several years of training, the department began to fully implement this approach. In 2019 the state will require all probation departments to implement these practices.

Staffing changes –

After 28 ½ years with the Court, Jerry Dornbusch retired from the Probation Department. His expertise, enthusiasm, and impact in our community will be sorely missed. The Court wishes him well.

In November, Scott Auxier became the Chief Probation Officer. Scott had been with the Court for 17 years, handling not only general probation duties, but also as the diversion coordinator since 2010. Scott's wealth of knowledge and expertise will allow the probation department to continue to be a leader in juvenile justice.

Objectives for 2019

- Expanding the Diversion Program. Research indicates that youth can be better served and reduce the likelihood of recidivism if charges are diverted. The goal for 2019 is to expand the scope of charges in the diversion program. The diversion program can service both the youth and their families without the stigma that can be attached to being involved in the court system. It can also avoid some of the long-term, in some cases life altering effects of having charges on your juvenile record.
- Incentives for youths and families. Through different means and services the probation department has attempted to reward both youth and their families for their progress. The goal for 2019 is to implement these incentives more frequently and in a more systematic way. The use of incentives and positive reinforcement may be more effective in changing behaviors.
- Online Programming Options. As the diversion department expands, the need for services and programming will too. Allowing families to gain knowledge and skills through online classes promotes the services needed and permits them to gain these in an informal manner.
- Expanding the use of our Practicum student. In 2019, the Probation department will have our third practicum student from the doctoral psychology program at Wright State University. This has been a hugely beneficial endeavor with the office of Dr. Steve Liptak. The goal for 2019 is to have this student be a part of our assessment team that meets with youth who may be in need of services or probation supervision. This expertise gives our probation department, as well as the Court, a way to address needs with the families.

- In the Clerks of Courts for both Juvenile and Probate division will, continue to explore moving to a paperless case management system with e-filing. The court has been, evaluating different systems, with the goal to find the correct system to help the clerks with their processing, docketing, and recording of all court records.

The Court adopted a new parenting time schedule and a lot of time and effort has been made to make sure our new parenting schedules reflect the ever-changing needs and structure of parents and children. The court would like to thank members of the Miami County Bar Association, Juvenile and Family Law Committees, Magistrates Severt, Hall, Wannemacher, Beers, and Gee, Miami County CSEA attorneys Johnson and Vest, and Attorney Todd Severt for all of their help and assistance in revising Juvenile Court's Parenting Time Schedules and Child Support Orders. The new Child Support Orders reflect the first major Legislative change in two decades regarding how the court calculates child support. Both the new parenting Time Schedule and new Child Support Orders may be found on the Miami County Juvenile Court's website.

Our Purpose

The Juvenile Court of Miami County is a division of the Miami County Common Pleas Court. Our purpose is to protect the Miami County community from juvenile crime, assist the victims of that crime, counsel and rehabilitate youth who commit crimes, protect children from abuse, neglect, and dependency and provide allocation of parental rights for children whose parents were never married.

Juvenile Court becomes involved in the lives of our children under 18 who:

- ❖ Do not obey their parents, school officials, and other custodians
- ❖ Do not attend school, who violate curfew, who drink alcohol and use drugs
- ❖ Commit violations of traffic laws
- ❖ Commit criminal acts
- ❖ Are victims of abuse, neglect or dependency
- ❖ And who's circumstances require orders of paternity, visitation, and child support

The Court also hears cases of adults who contribute to the unruliness or delinquency of a minor. Consistent with our purpose to provide safe and appropriate homes to the children of Miami County, Juvenile Court handles paternity, child support, child custody and visitation cases involving children whose parents are not married.

The Court protects the interests and rights of our children and the public by rehabilitating and holding youth and their families accountable for their actions. The Court strives to strengthen the family and empower parents to actively provide the balance of love, structure, supervision, and responsibility so that their children will develop the self-control and independence needed to become productive, self-sufficient, law abiding adults.

Referrals reach the Court through various channels, including parents, school officials, law enforcement authorities, neighbors, Children Services representatives, and the Prosecutor's office.

Under the direction of Judge Scott Altenburger and with the support of two full-time magistrates, the Court provides a broad range of community based, residential treatment and prevention services. This report is intended to help you understand the children we serve and give you an overview of the services we provided in 2018.

Unruly offenses include behaviors such as truancy at school, running away, and incorrigibility; these behaviors would not be considered a crime if committed by adults. The following is a summary of the 2018 unruly charges:

Abused, Neglected and Dependent Children

An abused child includes any child that exhibits evidence of any serious physical or emotional injury inflicted other than by accidental means or is the victim of sexual activity. A neglected child is one who is abandoned or lacks parental care because of the faults, habits, and indifference of the parents or custodians. A dependent child lacks proper care or support through no fault of the parents or custodian. The juvenile court has the responsibility to hear such cases and make a finding or adjudication. The Court may make orders altering legal custody or redefining the parental rights and responsibilities to protect the child. These cases are very complex and require close cooperation with Miami County Children Services Board, law enforcement, and other social agencies.

2018 Abuse, Neglect & Dependency Charges Filed

Abuse, Neglect and Dependency	124
Motion for Permanent Custody	14
Bridges Program	3

The Court believes that when a child’s physical, mental and emotional health is at stake and when the child’s needs are not being met, that the child needs an advocate. Therefore, in all of these cases the Court appoints a guardian ad litem either through CASA/GAL of MIAMI COUNTY or a private attorney. Based on the complaint before it, and by considering the best interest of the child, the Court may use a variety of options for dealing with abused, neglected, and dependent children including:

- ◆ Order protective supervision by Miami County Children Service Board

- ◆ Remove the child from the home on a temporary basis and give custody to Children Services during which time the parties can work on a plan for reunification
- ◆ Give legal custody to a relative
- ◆ Place the child in long-term foster care when the parent is not able to assume care
- ◆ Award permanent custody to Children Services, so that the child can be adopted

The Bridges Program allows young adults, who were in foster care at the time they turned 18, to continue to receive certain services, such as education, housing and employment, until they reach the age of 21.

In 2017, the Court had filings of 92 abuse, neglect, and dependency cases and 14 permanent custody cases.

Paternity, Custody, Child Support, and Visitation

The Juvenile Court has jurisdiction in cases of children whose parents were never married. Sometimes, this involves determining who the father of a child is. It can also involve deciding which parent gets custody of a child, amount of child support, and visitation the child can have with a parent. Juvenile Probation

The Miami County Juvenile Probation Department's mission is to encourage youth to behave responsibly and ensure community safety through the enforcement of court orders and terms of probation. The Probation Department uses sanctions such as electronic home monitoring, direct supervision, and social services to solve family problems and change youth behavior. The Probation Department routinely networks with schools, law enforcement, and other human services agencies to serve the needs of probationers. The department utilizes a number of contracted services to meet the therapeutic needs of the youth.

To achieve the mission the department maintains the following components:

- A Diversion program for first time offenders, which includes an array of education and mental health services to assist families in addressing communication and behavior problems
- An assessment of the youth's level of risk and dispositional recommendations with individualized treatment plans using multiple modes of intervention
- Specialized supervision of sex offenders and youth in specialized out-of-home placements
- Probation supervision which concentrates on changing behavior and improving pro-social skills through individualized treatment planning and using community resources. Working with parents, officers monitor court orders to assure accountability
- House Arrest Monitoring Program which supervises youth placed on house arrest during weekend and evening hours
- Community Service Program which gives youth the opportunity to participate in supervised work projects which benefits the community
- Utilization of Carey Guides with our youth and families. This is an evidence-based practice, which helps address and educate youth on the reasons that they have made the decisions that lead them on Probation.
- Facilitation of groups by probation staff, with referrals being made by probation and the Court. These groups serve as potentially beneficial interventions for both youth and parents.

Under the direction of Scott Auxier, Chief Probation Officer, the probation department has seven full time probation officers, one probation assistant, one full-time and one part-time community service youth supervisors

2018 Assessment Statistics

Miami County Juvenile Court utilizes a risk assessment to help determine the appropriate disposition and level of services. These assessments provide the Court with the level of risk that a youth poses, as well as with dispositional recommendations based on individualized treatment plans using multiple modes of intervention.

Child Placement Services

Miami County Juvenile Court Probation Department may take custody/care and control of an adjudicated unruly or delinquent youth when the parent is unable to effectively parent or manage the child's behavioral problems. The child can be placed in an out-of-home setting such as foster care or residential treatment. This decision is only made when the Probation Department has made reasonable efforts to prevent placement and the Court determines it is in the child's best interest to live away from their parent or guardian.

In 2012, Miami Juvenile Court Probation Department became a Title IV-E certified court. Title IV-E is a federal program that subsidizes the cost of out-of-home care for eligible youth. The goal of the program is reduce the reliance on out-of-home care and encourage the use of preventative and reunification services. Through this program the Court acts as a child service agency and provides services which are individualized and in the best interest of a child. To be eligible for this program, each Court must be approved by the Ohio Department of Job and Family Services and must comply with federal and state regulations.

When a child is placed in care and control the case is transferred to the Intensive Supervision Probation Officer who coordinates all the eligibility paperwork and establishes a reunification and treatment plan for the child and family. That probation officer works closely with the placement facility or foster parents to assure that the child's needs are met.

If a child in custody meets income eligibility, the Court can receive reimbursement for some of the foster care maintenance costs and reimbursement for administrative and training costs related to serving youth at risk for placement. The Court utilizes FFP funds to improve services to children and youth services in Miami County, with special emphasis given to specialized placements for high risk youth and reducing the number of placements in state funded Correctional Institutions.

Alternatives to Detention

House arrest and electronic home monitoring are two alternatives that allow a youth to remain in the community yet restrict a youth's movement within the community. These strategies allow a youth to continue to live at home and attend school, jobs, counseling and other approved activities. These programs serve as a short term sanction and remind juveniles that they need to pay attention to curfews and other court imposed expectations. House arrest is less restrictive and relies heavily on a youth's compliance, parental participation and monitoring. Electronic home monitoring uses an ankle bracelet technology that detects movement and alerts probation officers when a child is engaging in activity away from approved venues. Both approaches are used extensively by probation officers to enhance supervision.

Electronic Home Monitoring

The Electronic Home Monitoring Program is one that uses ankle bracelets to allow the probation department to know the whereabouts of the child at all times. Probation is notified if the child has left the house. This program is often used for youth coming out of a long term residential stay, so as to help adjust to the reduced amount of structure.

House Arrest Monitoring Program

The House Arrest Monitoring Program was started through a grant. Once the grant ended, the probation staff elected to continue the programming. The probation department does random, unscheduled visits to the home of youth placed under an order of House Arrest by the Court in order to determine their compliance with the Court's orders. In addition to monitoring youth's compliance with the Court's orders it also allows the probation officers to have a more visible presence after "traditional Court hours", in the evenings and on weekends.

Piqua Office

The Piqua Probation Office is located at 1105 W. Wayne Street in downtown Piqua. To reach the Piqua office call 937-615-0657. This office is used by probation officers to conduct visits with youth and their families and to provide group treatment programming. The office was remodeled in 2017 and equipped with smartboards using a state grant.

Diversion Services

The Court uses the Diversion Program as an alternative to formal court proceedings. All charges against first-time offenders are reviewed by Krista Hoying to assess whether diversion is appropriate. Only specific types of charges, such as unruly offenses, (school truancy, running away, curfew violations, tobacco offenses or violating the rules set by their parents or school officials), as well as minor delinquencies such as petty theft, disorderly conduct, criminal trespassing and criminal damaging are diversion eligible. The Court has been expanding its diversion to include sexting type cases. The youth and their parents are given the opportunity to participate in educational groups as an alternative to appearing in court. Youth are also offered volunteer opportunities to assist in redirecting behavior. When youth and families complete the program, the original citation or complaint is sealed and never filed with the Court.

As a component of diversion youth are to provide $25 worth of can goods to the St. Patrick's Soup Kitchen. In 2018 youth donated $1,750 worth of food.

Community Service/Restitution

The Community Service Program is designed for youth that have been ordered by the Court to perform community service hours as a consequence for their behavior. The Restitution program allows youth to work to reimburse victims for their losses. The purpose of the program is to hold juveniles accountable for their actions by requiring them to participate in a work program that gives back to the community. It is also intended to promote appropriate work and employment skills. Both youth on formal probation and those informally supervised by the Court can be enrolled in the program.

Youth work at sites in the community and are supervised by part-time and seasonal court staff. Work is scheduled so as not to interfere with school, occurring late afternoon, weekends, and on school vacations. Efforts are made to enroll youth in sites within their home communities. The program has 13 sites including local nursing homes, city and county municipal buildings, and football stadiums. In 2018, 319 youth provided 2807 hours of service to the community.

2018 Crops for Change Program

In 2016, the Court re-introduced “Crops for Change”. This project was originally conceptualized by Miami County Juvenile Court Magistrate Katherine Kemp Severt. The youth plant, weed, water, and harvest crops, consisting of a variety of vegetables including peppers, cabbage, and tomatoes. After harvest, the juveniles make salsa which they share with staff and other county employees. This experience helps the participating juveniles understand the growth cycle of plants and that food doesn’t have to come from the grocery. It also enables them to see their hard work provides food to those families in need. In 2018, 28 youth participated in this project.

Funding for the program comes from the Department of Youth Services Reclaim Grant.

Community Partnerships

Miami County Juvenile Court has developed many partnerships with community agencies to provide services to the youth involved with the Court. Through contracts with the Court, these agencies provide needed services developed specially for the Court involved youth and their parents. Juveniles are ordered into these programs according to their needs.

Contract Services

- ❖ Adolescent Sex Offender Treatment provided by contract with Kate Benton, a licensed sex offender therapist. Youth convicted of a sexual offense receive assessment, outpatient group and individual treatment on a weekly basis. In 2018, eight (8) youth were assessed.
- ❖ Alcohol and Substance Abuse Education is provided by contract with Miami County Recovery Council. This program works with first time offenders who have come before the Court on an alcohol or substance abuse charge. The program includes an all-day educational session, a substance use assessment, and a parent component. In 2018, 15 youth successfully completed this program. A total of five (5) groups were held.
- ❖ Shoplifters Group is provided by contract with the Miami County Recovery Council. The Recovery Council provides a home study course and a one-day educational class for youth involved in shoplifting. The sessions help youth understand the dynamics of shoplifting and why they have chosen this risky behavior. The course strives to help youth get better control of their lives and change these destructive and unlawful behaviors. In 2018, 25 youth were served in this program. A total of six (6) groups were held.
- ❖ Independent Living is provided by contract with the local Ohio State University Extension Office. Program consists of 8 weekly classes that teach and demonstrate skills that are important to aid in their transition into adulthood. Program is geared toward youth ages 15-18. Skills covered in these groups include health and safety, housing and meal prep, job readiness, financial management, life decisions and responsibilities, and personal and social relationships. In 2018, four (4) groups were held, educating 27 youth.
- ❖ Anger Management Group is designed to address the lack of skills/competencies to appropriately express and deal with anger as well as conflict resolution skills. The goal is to provide education, intervention and usable skills to youth who are struggling with anger management issues in order to assist them in the reduction or elimination of their involvement in violent or aggressive behaviors. This ten week group is facilitated by a probation officer with the assistance of a doctorate level psychiatric intern assigned to the Court. In 2018, 31 youth participated in the group.
- ❖ Outreach is provided by contract with Miami County Recovery Council to provide on- going education, intervention and usable skills to youth age 13-18 who are struggling with substance abuse issues. The goal of the group is to provide information and increase the youth's knowledge of their own personal use patterns as well as teaching skills to assist them in decreasing or eliminating their own use of substances and to decrease their risk of addiction and future substance abuse related offenses. In 2018, 25 youth participated in Outreach.

- ❖ Parent Project is a nationally recognized educational and support program for parents and guardian. This program offers guidance and real applicable lessons and skills for parents who are having difficulty with their children. These skills can be used with children who are exhibiting both unruly and delinquent behavior. The class is 10 weeks in length with 24 hours total in classroom time. This is facilitated by trained probation staff. This program was just started in the fall of 2018, with the first group consisting of six parents, three of whom successfully completed.
- ❖ Psychological Services are provided through contracts with licensed psychologists. Psychological evaluations are performed to provide the Court with needed assessments integral to further court treatment plans. Forensic evaluations are also provided. These are required when deciding if a youth should be tried as an adult, and whether the child is competent to stand trial.
- ❖ Collaboration with Wright State's Psychology Department to provide a Doctoral Student Candidate to be at the Court a couple of days per week, under the supervision of Dr. Stephen Liptak. This student assesses, counsels, attends treatment team meetings, and facilitates groups. This partnership allows the probation department and the Court the ability to offer supportive services to families that normally would be difficult to attain.

Shared Placements

Placement services are provided for youth who receive assistance from multiple agencies, such as Miami County Children Services, Riverside Developmental Disabilities, and Tri-County Board of Recovery and Mental Health. The Court shares in the placement costs of some youth in the custody of Children Services who are also involved with the Court. Youth are placed in various types of settings including foster care, group homes, and residential treatment. In 2018, Juvenile Court contributed $57,006.07 in shared funding for the placement of six youth.

Guardian Ad Litem

Juvenile Court provides funding to CASA/GAL OF MIAMI COUNTY to provide advocacy services on behalf of abused and neglected children. The advocates, specially trained volunteers serving as Guardian ad Litem (GAL), represent the best interest of children involved in dependency, neglect, and abuse cases for which placement is being determined by the Court, and, any other case where permanent custody has been filed. CASA/GAL OF MIAMI COUNTY is a private non-profit agency. In 2018, 47 volunteers served 166 children, on par from 2017, when 38 volunteers served 172 children.

The Court also may provide an attorney to represent the child.

Fines and Court Costs

Fines and court costs are ways to hold youth and adults accountable for their actions. Miami County Juvenile Court believes that these fines and costs should be assessed to youth and they are encouraged to pay their own costs. Adults who are convicted in this court are also assessed fines and costs. Juvenile Court has taken an aggressive stance in an effort to collect fines and court costs. Fines are assessed and collected immediately after court hearings. When individuals cannot pay immediately, a payment plan is established. Fines and costs are dispersed to the general fund and to other agencies as defined by law. Failure to pay fines can result in further court hearings and/or a suspension of driver's license.
